

PLISTIC

Terms and Conditions of Service

A trading name of Songplistic Ltd, a company registered in Scotland

Last updated: 23 June 2026

1. Who We Are

These Terms and Conditions (“Terms”) govern all work undertaken by Plistic, the trading name of Songplistic Ltd (“we”, “us”, “our”, or “Plistic”), a company registered in Scotland under company number SC699049, with its registered office at 2 West Drive Cottage, Stracathro, Brechin, Scotland, DD9 7QF.

These Terms apply to every project, booking, and engagement between Plistic and any client (“you”, “your”, or “the Client”), whether confirmed through our website, by email, verbally, or by any other means. By confirming a booking, paying a deposit, or instructing us to begin work, you agree to be bound by these Terms.

These Terms are governed by the law of Scotland, and any dispute arising from them is subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Scottish courts.

2. Our Services

Plistic provides media production and related services, including but not limited to: podcast production (full service and post-production only), video production, documentary production, event filming, music video production, advertising production and campaign management, content research and strategy, project management for media production, presenting and performance coaching, podcast SEO, multi-platform distribution, and analytics reporting.

The specific scope of services for any individual project is confirmed in writing before work begins, in the form of a Project Confirmation (see Section 3.4). Any service, deliverable, or feature not explicitly included in the Project Confirmation is not included in the agreed price and may be chargeable as additional work.

3. How a Project is Booked

3.1 Quote and Call Route

Most podcast, video production, and event filming enquiries begin with an estimate generated through our website quote tool, followed by a free discovery call to confirm scope, requirements, and final pricing. No payment or card details are required to book this call.

3.2 Bespoke Enquiry Route

For projects that do not suit a fixed calculator — including documentaries and other bespoke commissions — you can leave your details and some initial information about your project through our website, and book a call directly into our calendar without needing to speak to anyone first. This route does not require a prior brief review or any gatekeeping step — the call itself is where scope is established.

3.3 Self-Serve Route

For simple, clearly defined jobs (such as post-production work submitted through our upload portal) and for coaching sessions, which are offered at a fixed rate, you may be able to confirm and pay for a booking without a prior call.

3.4 Project Confirmation

Regardless of route, a project is only confirmed once you have received a written Project Confirmation from us, setting out the agreed scope, price, timeline, and any specific terms for that project, and the applicable deposit (see Section 5) has been paid. We reserve the right to decline any project before this point, including after a discovery call has taken place.

A quote generated by our online estimator is an indicative range only and does not constitute a binding offer. The final price is confirmed in the Project Confirmation.

4. Project Briefs and Client Responsibilities

To deliver your project on time and to the standard you expect, we rely on you to:

- Complete any project brief or questionnaire we provide, accurately and within a reasonable timeframe
- Provide any assets, footage, audio, or materials required for production in the formats and by the deadlines we specify
- Respond to requests for feedback, approval, or clarification within the timeframes set out in your Project Confirmation
- Connect us with any contacts relevant to the project — such as guests, contributors, or colleagues within your organisation — that we reasonably need in order to complete the work
- Make appropriate time and space available to engage with the production process, including responding to scheduling requests and attending agreed sessions
- Ensure you have the right to use any third-party material (music, footage, images, branding, or otherwise) that you ask us to incorporate into your project

If delays on your part affect our ability to deliver on the agreed timeline, the delivery date will be adjusted accordingly, and we reserve the right to charge for any additional costs reasonably incurred as a result (including rescheduled studio time, crew, or third-party costs).

5. Payment Terms

5.1 Deposit and Final Payment

Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payment for full-service production projects is structured as follows:

- 50% of the total project value is payable as a deposit before production work begins
- The remaining 50% is payable on delivery of the final agreed deliverables, before final files are released for your unrestricted use

5.2 Self-Serve, Portal, and Coaching Bookings

For projects booked and paid through our self-serve upload portal, and for coaching sessions, full payment is taken at the point of booking, before work begins.

5.3 Invoicing and Payment Deadlines

Following a discovery call, we issue a deposit invoice by email with a payment link. The quoted price is valid for 7 days from the date of the Project Confirmation. If the deposit is not received within this window, we reserve the right to requote before accepting the booking.

Final invoices are issued on completion of the agreed deliverables and are payable within 7 days of the invoice date, unless otherwise agreed in writing.

5.4 Late Payment

If an invoice is not paid by its due date, we are entitled to charge statutory interest under the Late Payment of Commercial Debts (Interest) Act 1998, which applies in full in Scotland. The rate is 8% per annum above the Bank of England base rate in force on the date payment became overdue, calculated daily on the outstanding amount from the due date until paid.

In addition to interest, we are entitled to a fixed compensation sum under the Late Payment of Commercial Debts (Scotland) Regulations 2002, as follows:

- £40 for a debt of less than £1,000
- £70 for a debt of £1,000 or more but less than £10,000
- £100 for a debt of £10,000 or more

These charges apply automatically by law to qualifying business-to-business debts and do not need to be separately agreed in this contract, but we set them out here for clarity. We reserve the right to suspend work on any project where payment is overdue.

5.5 VAT

Plistic (Songplistic Ltd) is not currently registered for VAT. All prices quoted are therefore the total amount payable, with no VAT added. If this changes, we will update our pricing and these Terms accordingly and notify clients in advance.

6. Referral Programme

If you refer a new client to Plistic — someone who has not worked with us before — and that referral results in a confirmed, paid project, we will pay you a referral fee on the following basis:

- The referral fee is 10% of the total value of the referred client's first project with Plistic
- It applies only to a new client's first project with us. It is a thank you for the introduction, not an ongoing share of any future work that client books with us
- The fee is paid once the client's final invoice for that first project has been settled in full
- To be eligible, the referral must be submitted through our official referral form on our website before the prospective client first contacts us by any other means — directly, through a discovery call, through our quote tool, or otherwise
- We do not pay referral fees based on a claim made after a project has already been agreed or signed. If we have no record of a referral submitted through our official form before the client first made contact, no referral fee is payable, regardless of any conversation that may have taken place outside our systems
- Simply mentioning Plistic to someone in conversation, without submitting the referral through our form, does not qualify for a referral fee

We reserve the right to decline a referral fee, or to request further information, where it is unclear whether a genuine introduction has taken place, or where the prospective client was already known to us.

This referral programme may be amended or withdrawn at any time. The terms in effect at the time a referral is submitted will apply to that referral.

7. Cancellations, Rescheduling, and Changes

7.1 Cancellation of the Whole Project by the Client

Once a deposit has been paid and production work has begun on your project, the deposit becomes non-refundable. This reflects the time, resources, and third-party costs (such as studio bookings, crew, or freelancer fees) that are committed on your behalf once production starts, and is calculated as a genuine pre-estimate of the loss we would otherwise incur — not as a penalty for cancelling.

If you cancel before production work has begun, your deposit will be refunded in full, less any costs we have already reasonably and necessarily incurred on your behalf at that point (such as third-party bookings made specifically for your project).

If a project is cancelled after more than 50% of the agreed work has been completed (assessed by reference to time spent, resources used, and deliverables produced relative to the total scope), we reserve the right to charge an additional fee reflecting the proportion of work completed beyond the deposit amount, up to the full project value. We will set out the basis for any such charge in writing, showing the work completed, before invoicing.

7.2 Rescheduling or Cancelling a Specific Filming or Recording Day

Where your project involves one or more specific filming, recording, or event days that have been confirmed in your Project Confirmation, the following applies in addition to Section 7.1:

- If you need to reschedule or cancel a confirmed filming or recording day with at least 5 working days' notice, we will work with you to find a new date at no additional charge.
- If you reschedule or cancel a confirmed filming or recording day with less than 5 working days' notice, we reserve the right to charge the full agreed rate for that filming day, as the session will have been reserved in our schedule and we are unlikely to be able to reallocate the time or crew at short notice. Any third-party costs already committed on your behalf (such as venue hire) will also be chargeable. We will confirm any such charge in writing.

7.3 Cancellation or Postponement by Plistic

In the unlikely event that we need to cancel or postpone a confirmed project (for reasons including but not limited to illness, equipment failure, or circumstances beyond our reasonable control), we will notify you as soon as possible and either reschedule at no additional cost or refund any payments made for work not yet delivered.

7.4 Changes to Scope

If you wish to change the scope of a project after the Project Confirmation has been issued (for example, adding episodes, extending runtime, or requesting additional deliverables), we will provide a revised quote for the additional work. Changes in scope may affect the delivery timeline.

8. Revisions and Feedback

Unless otherwise stated in your Project Confirmation, the price for full-service production projects includes up to two rounds of revisions on delivered work.

To help us turn revisions around quickly and accurately, please make feedback as specific as possible — referencing exact timestamps and clear instructions (for example, “at 2 minutes 14 seconds, please trim this section”) rather than general impressions. This is set out in full in the onboarding pack provided at the start of your project.

Any request for revisions beyond the included rounds, or any request that amounts to a substantial change in direction rather than a refinement of agreed work, is treated as additional work and will be charged at the relevant rate from our current pricing sheet for that type of work, confirmed with you in writing before that work begins.

Revision requests should be submitted within 5 working days of delivery unless a different timeframe is agreed in your Project Confirmation. If we do not receive feedback within 10 working days of delivery, and have made reasonable attempts to contact you during that time, we will treat the project as approved and proceed to final invoicing on that basis.

9. Recording and Filming Time

Your Project Confirmation sets out the time allocated for any recording, filming, or event coverage session — for example, a half-day, full-day, or a specific number of hours for a podcast recording.

If a session runs beyond the allocated time, additional time is charged at 1.5 times the pro-rata rate for that booking (calculated from the agreed session rate set out in your Project Confirmation). This reflects the genuine cost to us of a session overrunning — including the knock-on effect on other bookings, travel, and crew time — and is standard practice in the production industry. Where practical, we will let you know during the session if it looks likely to run over, so you can decide whether to continue or stop at the agreed time.

This applies whether the overrun is due to the format of the session (for example, a podcast recording that runs significantly longer than the planned episode length) or the length of an event running beyond its scheduled finish time. Overage charges will be confirmed and invoiced alongside the final invoice for the project.

10. Turnaround Times

Estimated turnaround times are confirmed in your Project Confirmation. Turnaround begins from the point we have received all necessary assets, briefs, and information from you — not from the date the project was booked.

Where a project is booked through our self-serve portal, turnaround tiers and their associated timeframes are clearly stated at the point of booking.

We will make reasonable efforts to meet all agreed deadlines. If we expect to miss an agreed deadline for reasons within our control, we will tell you as early as possible, before the deadline passes, and agree a new date with you directly.

11. Ownership and Usage

11.1 Ownership of Final Deliverables

On payment in full, ownership of the final agreed deliverables (the specific files set out in your Project Confirmation) transfers to you. You own these outright — we are not licensing them to you — and you are free to use, reproduce, and distribute them for the purposes agreed at the outset of your project, without further payment to us.

11.2 What Plistic Retains

Unless raw footage delivery has been specifically agreed and paid for as part of your project, raw footage, unedited audio, project files, working materials, and any alternative cuts or versions not delivered as final deliverables remain the property of Plistic.

We also retain a permanent, royalty-free licence to use the final deliverables (or excerpts, stills, and behind-the-scenes content from the production of those deliverables) in our own portfolio, website, case studies, social media, and other promotional materials, unless you tell us in writing before or at the start of your project that you would prefer otherwise, or that you would like us to seek your approval before each use. We will record and respect that preference.

11.3 Third-Party Material

You are responsible for ensuring you hold the necessary rights, licences, or permissions for any third-party material (music, archive footage, branding, images, or otherwise) that you provide to us or specifically direct us to use. We will use reasonable care in sourcing any licensed material on your behalf, but we are not liable for any third-party intellectual property claim arising from material you have supplied or specifically directed us to use.

12. Confidentiality

We treat all client information, briefs, business plans, and unreleased content as confidential, and will not disclose this information to third parties without your consent, except where required by law.

If your project requires a specific non-disclosure agreement beyond the confidentiality commitment in these Terms, please let us know before work begins so that an appropriate agreement can be put in place.

13. Liability

We will perform our services with reasonable skill and care, in line with standard practice for media production services in Scotland.

We are not liable for any indirect, consequential, or special loss, including loss of profit, loss of business, or loss of opportunity, arising from our work, except where such liability cannot be excluded by law.

Our total liability for any claim arising from a project, whether in contract, negligence, or otherwise, is limited to the total fees paid by you for that specific project.

Nothing in these Terms excludes or limits our liability for death or personal injury caused by our negligence, or for any other liability that cannot be excluded or limited under Scots law.

14. Insurance

Plistic holds professional indemnity insurance appropriate to the scale and nature of our work. Details are available on request.

15. Force Majeure

Neither party is liable for any failure or delay in performing their obligations under these Terms where that failure or delay results from circumstances beyond their reasonable control, including but not limited to acts of God, fire, flood, extreme weather, strikes, pandemic, government restriction, or failure of third-party suppliers.

16. General

16.1 Entire Agreement

These Terms, together with the relevant Project Confirmation, constitute the entire agreement between Plistic and the Client for that project, and supersede any prior discussions, representations, or agreements relating to that project.

16.2 Variation

These Terms may be updated from time to time. Each version is dated at the top of this document (see “Last updated” above). The version in effect on the date a Project Confirmation is issued applies to that project for its duration, even if these Terms are subsequently updated.

16.3 Severability

If any provision of these Terms is found to be unenforceable or invalid, that provision will be limited or eliminated to the minimum extent necessary, and the remaining provisions will continue in full force.

16.4 No Waiver

A failure by either party to enforce any provision of these Terms at any time does not constitute a waiver of that provision.

16.5 Governing Law

These Terms are governed by and construed in accordance with the law of Scotland, and the parties submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Scottish courts.

17. Contact

If you have any questions about these Terms, please contact us at hello@plisticmedia.com.

Plistic is the trading name of Songplistic Ltd, a company registered in Scotland under company number SC699049. Registered office: 2 West Drive Cottage, Stracathro, Brechin, Scotland, DD9 7QF.